Should I leave a lot of water in the pasture for my alpacas?

The amount of daily water an alpaca drinks varies from about 1 quart to 4 quarts per day. In the summer, if it's humid and the grass has high water content, they'll need less, ... in the winter, more.

It's important also to warm up your Alpacas water in the winter time. (Water consumption is much better when it's warmer).

It's difficult for alpacas to drink too much water, but dangerous if they don't get enough.
